“ The summer our parents to sent Joshua and I to Texas you were working and not home much but I remember sneaking into your room (with the Sega Genesis) to sabotage you two boys with nail polish and so much glitter. Hushing snickers and giggles because we knew if y'all woke up we'd have a price to pay. That summer you had us convinced we had to outrun the train so the camera flash wouldn't catch us. Good times.

Always a kid at heart, forever in ours.
I love you cuz, rest peacefully.

“ I'm going to miss you so much. I'm going to miss your big bear hugs and messing my hair up when you hugged me . I'm going to miss you announcing me at every family gathering as your other daughter . I miss the cheesy dad jokes and memes you would show us on your phone . I'm going to miss being thrown around in the pool . Remember that time you got me hooked on wrestling for a little bit ,how I yelled at the tv for the wrestler to take the other guy down and you laughed so hard at me . I wished I could have said I loved you and goodbye but I'll see you again someday . I love you ❤️

“ Chris you always made me laugh. You were always so full of life. You were always there. We danced in the rain. We had so many food fights. We'd be cleaning up pumpkin seeds forever. Or our frosting fights. All our water fights.. Life was just so much better with you in it. We always pulled each other threw. You taught me how to laugh again. You gave me back the love of music. I think about the day that team of doctors said you were superman.ohhh you will forever be our superman.i miss you so much. The kids miss you. Rest in peace my love

“ I met Chris in 2016 when I met the love of my life, his first born, my Dalton. ❤️ I have loved you as my other dad ever since. We didn't always get along but you were always a phone call away and always there for us when he needed mechanic help or just to spend time together. I wish we could've said goodbye. I'm forever grateful that you got to meet your newest granddaughter, Aurora. We will always talk about you to our girls because you were an amazing grandpa. We promise to be there for the kids and Amy, always. Love you so much, rest in paradise 😊

“ Chris, you were taken from us too soon. Son, I love you & will miss you dearly. You lived life your way & I feel you finally found your happy "self". You made me a happy mom, a proud Nana & "Great-Nana". You left us a legacy your children & grandchildren. I have a lifetime of memories from our first cross-country bus ride to California when you were 3 yrs old to taking you to the airport for a plane trip to visit your Grandma all by yourself at 7yrs. old. To your dog Dutches pulling you down the street riding your skateboard. To the many boyscouting events we attended. Love you always, Forever Mom

“ Chris and I grew up together. Him myself and a few other's where always together in our teenage years. He had a brown Camaro that was his pride and joy. I'll never forget the night it caught fire. I thought his whole world was over because he lost his baby. I could go on and on but I can't because nobody has the time to read all my memories I had with him. He had a kind soul and loved deeply with his whole heart. He wasn't a selfish person at all he was always ready and willing to help someone in need. I only have one regret and that was not staying in touch more and being involved more. Chris I love you and the world will definitely not be the same without you. My heart and prayers go out to his wife and his children and to his mother and the rest of the family. I love you all and I'm so very very sorry he is no longer with us. Chris may you RIP and I'm thankful that we all have an amazing guardian angel to watch ovr us all. Till we meet again!!!

Love Always Samantha Graham (Roberto)

“ I was once working on replacing a garage door at Chris’s house. Chris was working but I was surrounded by his family who were playing games and watching TV. While working away I heard Amy answer the phone to Chris who was calling to say he was north but had a job south and so was going to stop by the house on his way to say hello to his family. Chris loved and prioritized his family so much he found the time to detour during his working day to simply give the kids a kiss and tell them he loved them.

This day truly inspired me to be a better father to my own children and take lessons in the love, care and affection Chris showed to those he cherished.

He was an inspiration to all those who had the pleasure to cross paths with him. Setting an example of how others should treat their loved ones by setting such a high benchmark for those to follow.

You will be truly missed Chris but your children will go forth and make you proud.

“ He was always there to give the kids a bare hug. He always had a joke to tell us. He was our rock, our strength, our heart. We miss him so much...
