“ Danny was one of a kind. My favorite memory of him is when he went down to Texas State, while in high school for choir camp. We were able to see him perform and it was wonderful seeing him in his element. I remember he told me "this is my future, my legacy " referencing the mark his brother , who was attending Texas State at the time, was making. I was better for knowing Danny and happy for the time, conversations and laughs we had together.
Thinking of his family today.
