

Clarence Henry Baughman Jr.

May 16, 1959 - April 12, 2026

“Clarence Baughman Jr, 66, of Temple, Texas, passed away on April 12, 2026, surrounded by his loving family. He was born on May 16, 1959, to Clarence and Lydia Baughman in Pheonix Arizona. He is preceded in death by his father, Clarence Baughman Sr and his sister Rebecca Baughman.

Clarence was a family man who prioritized his love for his wife and daughters. They were the focus of his entire life.

He is survived by his mother, Lydia Baughman, his sisters Debbie Alcocer and Virginia Clink, his wife, Karen Baughman, and his daughters Kristina Gonzales and Cynthia Wren. He is also survived by his sons-in-law, Andrew Gonzales and Clinton Wren, as well as his grandchildren, Andrew Gonzales Jr and his wife Kathryn Gonzales, Brandon Norseworthy, Kamden Gonzales, Katelynne Wren, Morgan Wren, and Riley Wren.

Clarence will be remembered for his love of old westerns, stealing of deviled eggs, and his fast-witted sarcasm. Along with his high-pitched whistle, he did to annoy his children.

“ When Karen and Clarence first for married, I was 9. It didn't take long after I met him until I was sitting on his lap. That was 47 years ago. How do you condense 47 years of memories into a paragraph? He will be missed by so many. Rest high brother
