“ I only just heard that you were gone a few days ago. We grew up together. You and James were on the same soccer team at dsysa and later in life we reconnected in a way that would eventually take you from us. I'm so sorry Erik. You have one of the most gentle souls I've ever gotten to spend time with. I will always love who you were. Not only to just me, but to EVERYONE you knew. In a world where everyone feels entitled, you were so humble. Humility was your strong suit. I'm so sorry you lost your way. You spent the rest of your life trying to find it again. Only it seems as if it only drifted further and further from you. But, you're at peace now. And forever. Amen.

To Erik's family, my deepest condolences. I will pray for you all in such a tough time. Erik loved all of you very deeply. I know he regrets the decisions he made after he lost his way. But there's nothing that any of us could've done differently to change the outcome because it was his life to live. I'm so very sorry.
