“ We miss you Gary. Our conversations over fried chicken were always a treat. Your passion for knowledge and desire to please Jesus are so clearly marked in my memories. God bless you, brother, and enjoy our Master's presence.

“ Gary was passionate in his love for Jesus and his fellow man. I'm thrilled that he now gets to meet the Savior he served so well.

“ Gary was my good friend. I am grateful for the days we spent walking our dogs together in Hyde Park, the times he would ride his bike next to me while I ran, and all the support he gave to me while running at UT. Gary was pure in heart and I will think of him often. I know that he is being taken care of and continuing on spiritually with the same joy he shared with us all. I will miss him.

“ Gary was such a unique individual. Eventhough Carol and I only had the blessing of his friendship for about the last 18 months we so dearly enjoyed his knowledge of the word and his talented ,often witty, responses during Bible study. His love for the Lord is without question. Our only regret is that the Lord called him home before our relationship blossomed. Joe & Carol Bowman

“ To say Gary was "one of a kind" would be an understatement. He had a truly inimitable personality and outlook on things which made our friendship and interactions indeed, special. We will miss our bi-weekly restaurant outings and his musings on both spiritual and non-spiritual matters, but we will mostly just miss him. John 10:27-29 describes the child of God as being in God's firm grasp, and we are comforted in knowing Gary may be absent from the body, but he is now present with the Lord.
