

George Washington Brown

February 22, 1954 - May 15, 2025

George Washington Brown, age 71, passed away on May 15, 2025 in Killeen, Texas, surrounded by all of his daughters and love.

Born in Cullman, Alabama, on February 22, 1954, George spent his early years traveling between Alabama and Florida with his family, who worked as dedicated migrant farmers. These formative experiences instilled in him the values of hard work and resilience that would define his life.

At the age of 21, George married Barbara Teichmiller and together they raised five beautiful daughters Laura, Jenny, Mandy, Nikki, and Jessie in Alabama. Though George and Barbara parted ways after more than 20 years of marriage, the love they poured into their family remained a lasting foundation.

After moving to Georgia, George continued to find joy and fulfillment in the world of carpentry. He dedicated his life to the craft, working on both residential and commercial projects. Known for his thoughtful designs and hands-on approach, George's favorite place was always the work shed—his sanctuary of sawdust, tools, and ideas. His daughters fondly recall waking with him at dawn to join him on job sites, learning not only about construction, but also about character.

Later in life, when the military called his daughters to Central Texas, George chose to follow them, settling nearby to remain close to the family he held dear.

George is survived by his daughters Laura Nimeh, Amanda Wilbanks, Patricia Steinrich, and Jessica Frank; his brothers Johnny, Bobby, Kenny; his sisters Diane, Betty; His 16 grandchildren, and 2 great grandchildren.

He is preceded in death by his daughter Jennifer Demonbreun, his parents Isaac and Florine, his brothers Boyd and Roy; his sister Virginia.

A funeral service will be held on Saturday, May 17, 2025 at 10am at the Copperas Cove Cemetery. A wake will be held afterwards at his daughter's home to share in memories, food, and love.
