

Georgia Hahn Key

August 9, 1932 - June 8, 2025

Georgia Jones Key was born on August 9, 1932 in Dawson, Texas. On June 8, 2025, she peacefully entered the presence of Jesus surrounded by loving family in the Beacon Hospice Care Center. She grew up in the Houston area, where she was the Salutatorian of Aldine High School. Georgia was also awarded a full academic scholarship to Rice University. She went on to raise her family in Victoria, Texas.

Georgia was an avid reader, especially historical romance novels. She was an accomplished seamstress and her most memorable projects were her daughters' dance costumes and wedding dresses. She was hard to beat at any card game, as well. Following the stock market and world news was part of her daily routine. Her hunger for travel took her all over the world, which she enjoyed reminiscing about with family and friends.

There were many things Georgia loved and treasured in her life, but none more important than her family and late husband, Sidney Key.

Georgia leaves behind her three daughters: Sharon Wade, Marsha Moyer, and Cindy Daly.

She also leaves behind four grandchildren: Heather (Derek) Boyd, Amanda (Doug) Wylie, Chelsea Wilborn and Jared (Lynn) Daly and eight great-grandchildren: Dylan (Emily) Boyd, Haley Boyd, Hayden, Connor and Alayna

Wylie, Riley Green, Blake and Dean Daly.

Georgia is preceded in death by her brother, Demaree Jones, and also leaves behind siblings: Katie Northrup, Ann Meyer, Anson (Fritzi) Jones and Gena Jones.
