James was my little brother who had a Heart of Gold, that would help anyone who's in Need. He was loved & respected by many he encountered. He loved to laugh, and be silly with his family & close friends. He could make something out of nothing, Very Talented. He also was a free soul who did things his way, and on his own terms. He loved people, but he didn't play - very true to himself. My brother, you will be Greatly Missed by us All... Gone To Soon... We'll Love You Always... 😊 ☐ In Jesus Name, Amen 🙏

I Will Always Keep Your Memory Alive, For All The Days Of My Life... RIP King ❤️

Thanks to All Who Loved Him, and Showed Him Kindness.

“ We met 31 years ago when you first got here to Texas. We not only became friends, but family. We had so many adventures together. We had ups and downs like big brother and little sister, but we never gave up on each other. You were an uncle to my kids that you watched grow up into the adults they are now. We had many days and night of laughter and stories about growing up. I was the one who stayed on you when you weren't making the right decisions, but I definitely was there for you through so much. Life may have taken us in different directions after we got stationed somewhere else, but that never changed the fact that we were family. It's truly hard to believe that you are no longer her talking a lot of junk to me, but just know you are truly missed. You were always there no matter what the situation. Until we meet again you will always be our guardian angel.

“ I'm still trying to find the right words, because losing you feels unreal. You were truly one of my best friends and I am so grateful that we were able to spend those last couple of days together. Those moments will always mean more to me than I can explain. I know without a doubt you're looking down from heaven now watching over all of us and that thought brings me some comfort even through the pain. To James's family I want to extend my deepest condolences. He was an incredible person, and his kindness, loyalty, and love touch so many lives. He will always be remembered and truly missed. James you will forever hold a place in my heart. Thank you for the friendship the memories that you gave so freely until we meet again fly high!

“ My sweet baby brother, how am I gonna make it in this world without you... It's so hard to catch my breathe still, everything reminds me of you... I will never be the same again. I gave you everything with in me to you since you was a baby, making sure you was alright. We've shared so many-many happy moments together throughout life. You wasn't only my little brother, but one of my best friends & protectors. I remember your first day of pre K and your last day of 12th grade. I flew all the way from Germany to attend your graduation, what a beautiful & proud day that was. I know I was always on your back about something, that was my pure love for you and wanting nothing but the best for you in life... You truly blessed us with your presence, and that big kool-aid smile in life. Now you can truly rest..no more sickness, no more pain, no more sorrow. Just being with Jesus and your heavenly family. The boys and I will always keep your memory alive, for all the days of our lives... We got your son & his family, and I know you know that. I'll be alright in time, you know the boys got me. I will always & forever love & miss you dearly, my lil bro.. RIP king, until we meet again 😭
🙏💔 My Angel 😇 ☐
