“ *I knew Laida back in the late 70's through the 80's..She was the best friend I could ever ask for. I had been searching for her for years now. She never left my heart, thoughts or prayers. Tonight, I found her and was overjoyed with excitement of getting the chance to tell her, Thank you. Sadly I clicker one more page and found this beautiful picture of her along with her obituary. She is beautiful still.i remember her long thick black hair. I now will do that what I have longed to do. Thank you for being such a wonderful person, friend and influenced in my life. You are greatly missed Tonight and shall be long after. Until we see each other again RIP my sweet friend. God bless your family.
Sincerely, Your friend,

“ Laida helped me through my undergraduate program at UST. She was so good at making a personal connection with everyone she met. Her energy was contagious, she was welcoming and always smiling. She was a beautiful woman, had an equally-beautiful soul, and it breaks my heart that she is no longer here. That said, the impression she made on everyone will always be an example to me on how to treat people. I send my love and thoughts to her family - she did good in her life and was someone that I will always consider when I talk about UST. We all want to leave a legacy and Laida did. On our campus, we have our crest that anyone can see and walk by that has dedications in every brick. Laida has one of those bricks because a family felt she deserved because of the impact she had on their child. I will never forget Laida and I hope her family, and Laida herself, finds peace in that she will always be remembered. I love and will miss you, Laida. Thank you for helping me get my degree.

“ Laida was a great person who made a mark on so many of those around her. As one example, I remember very clearly a moment when a former (graduated) student and his mom came back to Laida's office. They came to thank her for everything she did to help ensure that the former student was able to stay on track with his education. His mother credited Laida with getting her son through school and for helping him lay the groundwork for a successful and fulfilling life. I was blown away with the level of appreciation that the student and his mother displayed in thanking Laida for the lasting impact that she had on their lives. Laida may have moved on from this world, but her impact will not soon be forgotten.
