Marcie/Mema spent most of her time with her husband, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren whom she loved dearly. Mema always said “Children give me life”. She always welcomed her children’s friends and even grandchildren’s friends into her home. Friday nights and Sunday Bar-BQue’s with the family were special to her. She left a lasting impression with those who knew her and she will be missed by many. We know she is in heaven watching over us. She had a strong will to live and with the loving support of her family and friends she battled cancer and never gave up.
