“ Dear Sheila and Sisters,

The news of Raymond's recent death hit my heart deeply. He never wanted to be a "hero" but only a good family man with a wife and children to look after (along with his beloved dogs!). God had other plans for his earthly life and he stepped up to the job (kicking and screaming at times). Reading all the tributes to him from other heart patients and their loved ones made me realize that he made a very large family for himself and he took care of others in the most humble of manners. I am a better person for knowing Raymond Courtright. Mary Jan Treadwell (mjt3458@gmail.com)

“ I participated in Ray's heart failure management early on when diagnosed and looked upon him as a patient and a friend. His head was hard, but I always admired his fortitude and resilience. He never forgave me after I beat him in an arm wrestling contest. After recovering from his VAD placement, Ray served as a wonderful ambassador for the Heart Failure/ VAD program. He logged many hours meeting with fellow patients, many of whom were facing similar challenges as he had faced in the past, and did immeasurable work for the program. He was a champion of our program and respected by all. I am honored to have worked closely with him as a medical provider and he will be greatly missed. My prayers go out to his loving family.

“ As others have said, Ray was one of those that came by our hospital room to help us with the impending decision to accept the LVAD surgery. He was so helpful with explaining the process, the issues involved wearing a LVAD and addressing any questions I had back in May-June 2017. He was instrumental in calming the those waters for me back then.

Every time I ran into him, either at the Heart Clinic, or at the Christmas celebration luncheons, he was friendly, funny and smiling. I am proud to have met him. May his family know he made a difference in many lives. Prayers and blessings to the family. He will be missed.

“ Ray came to visit my wife and me in the hospital to talk about my impending LVAD surgery at a time when I was confused, overwhelmed, and somewhat in despair. He happily showed me his equipment and talked about everyday living with an LVAD. He eased my fears. His encouragement and humor will stay with me for my time on earth. Thank you, Ray!!

“ When I got my LVAD pump in 2014 I did not know what I would be physically able to do afterward. Ray gave me great hope when he said that he had is LVAD for years and had overhauled his brakes and washing machine.

“ I am heartbroken. Ray was always very kind and he could make you laugh. When my Son got his LVAD he would come and talk with us and encourage us. I am going to miss this God sent young man.

“ Ray was an amazing mentor, educator and friend. He was always willing to help educate a scared and overwhelmed patient who was considering an LVAD. He was gracious and provided hope to those whose hope was dwindling and support to the staff who loved and cared for him. He will be missed greatly! ~ Shay Rogillio
